On 25 June 1953, the Flak Kaserne in Dresden-Mickern was occupied by about 3,000 troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets with artillery, tank, signal and motor transport insignia. At about 2 p.m., about 80 to 100 T-34/76 and T-34/85 tanks, and about 12 armored scout cars [redacted] were observed in the installation. At about 8:30 a.m. on 26 June, 7 armored scout cars and 5 trucks, each towing a 120-mm mortar [redacted] 25X1

[redacted] left the installation, proceeding toward Pirna. At about 3 p.m., two armored scout cars returned to the installation, coming from the town. Between 1 a.m. and 2 a.m. on 1 July, about 60 medium tanks left the installation and proceeded toward the town. On 1 July, 20 T-34 tanks and 10 armored scout cars were in the installation. Comment: A tank unit apparently moved to the installation during the disturbance and left on 1 July. Subsequently, the installation was again occupied by a motorcycle battalion. It is still undetermined whether the battalion is assigned to the First Gds Mecz Army or the 11th Gds Tank Div. [redacted] 25X1
